The RAW Movement is about enhancing the self esteem of young adults, so that...

...they may develop strong "roots" and find their "wings" to soar.

“ We can never outperform our self esteem. ”

We can transform the world by empowering teenagers to see their true potential and help them to aspire to be their best. Teenagers are very vulnerable, so the stronger their sense of self, the greater their chances are of setting goals and reaching them. Having core values and learning basic leadership skills at a young age fosters personal responsibility, as well as respect for self and others. ~ Lynda Cormier, Co-Founder RAW Movement.
